EXHIBITION OF THE SECOND WARD PUBLIC SCHOOL .- During the present month the examination of the pupils in the various public schools have been in progress. They have attracted, as they deserve, very considerable attention, and we are gratified to note the high educational standard which exists in all of these institutions.

Yesterday the exhibition of the Second Ward School was held. In the morning, the pupils of the Primary School, under the charge of Miss Sallie on, Principal, and Miss Jennie Kerr and Mrs Crooks, were examined. Also, at the same time, the Secondary Department, under the charge of Mrs. Elliott, Principal, and Misses Carrie Clark and Eliza Cross.

But the most interesting exercises were reserved for the afternoon, when there was an unusually large audience present, and the exhibition of the grammar school was held. These scholars are of the more advanced grades, and well exhibited the careful training they had received from their accom plished teachers, Miss Sallie Clark, Principal, and Miss Martha Robinson, Assistant. The audience was particularly delighted with the charming singing of the following talented ladies, viz: Misses Mollie Dennis, May Ramsey, Rachel Gibbons, Harriet Bulkley, Annie Dennis, Emma Cross, Mary Duren, Ophelia Dinwiddie, Martha Scott, and Alice Woolford. Miss Carrie Flagg recited the fine poem, "Lochinvar," with great effect.

rest than that of yesterday. All were delighted, and all manifested the utmost euthusiasm.

The venerable Joseph Gales, of the National Intelligencer, has commenced in that journal the publication of a series of historical papers on the Declaration of War between the United States and Great Britain in the year 1812. The unequaled qualifications of Mr. Gales for the task he has undertake title the public to expect from his pen a contribution to our political history of very rare interest and value. And that expectation will most assuredly be fulfilled.

Mr. Robert J. Walker is apparently a rising man. He failed to become President Buchanan's Secretary of State by the merest miss; but, if we can believe the accounts we have from Washington, he is soon to be called to that high station, General Cass being too old—"and too fat, sir"—to discharge the duties of the place, though he can, in one sense, fill it.—Boston Traveller.

Then he is so much superior to Robert J. Walker, who can't fill it in any sense. Walker's faculties would cut as meager a figure in the functions of the State Department as his shanks would in its spa-

Æsop Outdone.-Lord Palmerston, in reply to some Scotch clergymen who petitioned him to advise her Majesty to fix a day for a national fast on account of the cholera, suggested that they "had better look after the town drainage." Upon the whole, we rather prefer this to the fable of "Jupiter and the Countryman."

DROWNED WHILE FISHING .- Day before yesterday the body of Michael Burke was found in the river at Dunkirk. He was subject to fits, and it is supposed that while fishing he fell into the river and was drowned. The deceased resided on the corner of Madison and Hancock streets.

BOY DROWNED .- Yesterday afternoon Jerry Buckner, a boy aged about 15 years, was drowned while in Beargrass creek, near the foot of Jackson street. His mother resides in the First ward. Some time since the father of the deceased was run over by a cart and killed.

The following from Punch is probably the severest satire ever uttered against human nature:

[For the Louisville Bulletin.] THE MILKING.

She sat amid the clover-blooms-And oh! the milking-maid was fair— The jet-black heifer's shining sides Were not so shiny as her hair!

The living roses on her cheeks Glowed through her loose locks' heavy night, And, like twin stars lost in a storm, Her dark eyes flashed to meet the light.

Most musically the dainty milk Through rosy, clasping fingers fell, And from her happy heart her joy Rang heavenward, like a silver bell,

While, from the shining fields of May, The sweet birds, floating, shook the dew From throbbing wings and wildly beat With song the starry-gated blue

Half pictured in her bashful air-Half uttered in her simple lay— Love's sweet unrest, that makes the woods Seem heavy with the winds of May

(When all the hills are bleak), showed plain. And every blossom growing by, With crimson bosom to the sun, Found on her cheek a swift reply.

Love crowns the outer types of faith With the sublime of inner sense; And in the lowliest heart stands up, Serene with truth's magnificene er weary hands together laid-For now the milking is all done!-The lovely promise of her life Far in the distance lies unwon.

Past the wild Spring. Above the woods The filling moon hangs low and white, And down the fading meadows drift The windy shadows of the night.

And birds from out the shining fields Shall singing go to meet the dawn; While low and still the maiden lies With death's white crown of silence on

Low, where a bird-song cannot reach, The shadow of her beauty waits The angel, who, to save from pain, Unbarred for her the starry gates

She dwelleth by the living streams: For her the amaranth splendors g Where o'er the golden hills of God The never ending summers blow! EMMA ALICE BROWNE.

Wheat's majority, 18 Bullitt County-Official .- Wheat 281; Bullitt 314-Bullitt's majority 33.

Nelson, reported 140 majority for Bullitt. Washington, reported 200 majority for Bullitt. Lincoln, reported Wheat largely ahead.

The returns from Nelson and Washington, if correct, show a gain upon the vote in November of over 700 for Wheat. The indications at present are, that Wheat is elected by a majority much larger than Fill more's in the district in November SAD ATTEMPT TO COMMIT SUICIDE .- Professor D. Barton Ross, author of the "Southern Speaker" and other class books, attempted to commit suicide in Petersburg, Va., on Thursday, by taking chloroform and stabbing himself in the region of the heart with a clasp knife. He was not dead at 2 o'clock on Friday morning, though little hope is entertained of his recovery. The wound was inflicted while shut up in his room at Powell's Hotel, and when found he was lying on the floor in a pool of blood. On the bed were discovered letters addressed to his friends and wife, indicating disappointment and depression of spirits, and intimating and attributing the intention of taking his life to reverse of fortune, and the non-appreciation of his efforts in the furtherance of Southern literature.

A NEWSPAPER REPORTER ELECTED U. S. SEN-AOR .- The Topeka (bogus) Legislature of Kansas met according to programme, last Tuesday week, and after two days' exertion, succeeded in electing W. A. Phillips, the New York Tribune's Kansas correspondent, United States Senator from the State of Kansas, vice Gen. Jim Lane, resigned. History is silent as to the manner in which Mr. Phillips re ceived the dignified office, the chief honor of which is the privilege of going to Washington next winter, applying for a seat, and being refused.

DROWNED .- At Madison, on Sunday, a little boy and girl, children of S. Anger, wandered down to the river, and while at play on the float of Thompson & McKim's coal boats, the little girl, only four years old, fell into the river and was drowned. All the efforts to recover the body have been unsuccess

The father of the deceased has telegraphed a friend in this city, stating that he will pay all necessary expenses incurred in recovering the body of the

THE REWARD. - The committee of ladies to award a prize to that one of the pupils of the Female High School who had, during the past term, preserved her books and desk with the greatest neatness, has rendered a decision. Miss Eudora Lucas is the success fel contestant, and we have every reason to believe that a more proper award could not have been made May she ever wear her honors, and her beautiful gold thimble-the prize-with becoming dignity.

NEGRO DROWNED .- Last winter while the rive was frozen, a negro man, the property of James Hewitt, fell through a hole and was drowned. His body was recovered day before yesterday, and identified by the skates on his feet. He was skating at the time of the fatal accident. The Coroner held an inquest.

Governor Meriwether, of New Mexico, reached Washington Saturday. He is in fine health, having borne his long journey over the plains admirably. He tendered his resignation to President Pierce in February last.

RIVER AND STEAMBOAT MATTERS.

PORTLAND TELEGRAPH LINE. Office at Portland, Delime's Drug Store, on the wharf.
Office at Shippingport, in the Canal Office. Office at Louisville, Durrett's Clothing Store, corner Fourth and Water streets.

The river was still rising last evening. There were then 10 feet 9 inches water in the canal, and 7 feet over the rocks on the falls. Several heavy showers fell last evening and last night. The Fanny Bullitt and Southerner came up over the falls, and the Glendale went down last evening. The James Montgomery will come to the wharf this morning.

For New Orleans .- The James Montogmery and Fanny Bullitt will both leave for New Orleans this evening from the city wharf. They are elegant boats, have first-rate accommodations, and ably of-

For St. Louis .- The Southerner is the packet for St. Louis to-day. She is commanded by Captain Tripplett, and Messrs. Sherley and Harrison are the clerks. Capt. P. is favorably known and enjoys

Black Hawk Sunk.—The little steamer Black Hawk was sunk in the Wabash river, near Little Rock, last week. It is thought that she can be raised.

The Mansfield, arrived at St. Louis from the Upper Mississippi, reports:

Met White Cloud at Rock Island; a large raft struck the piers of the bridge, and was torn up, in the evening, two men drowned; a flatboat with stone also struck one of the piers about the same time and sunk; four or five men on her were reported drowned when we left Rock Island.

Capt. John D. Taylor, commander of the unfortunate Humboldt, has purchased the famous Pittsburg and Cincinnati packet, Buckeye State, for $9,000 cash, deliverable on Monday next. She will be dismantled, and her machinery placed in a large side-wheel steamer for the Nashville and New Orleans trade. The Buckeye State is the last of the renowned packet line.

The St. Louis News of Monday evening says of

The rivers continue to rise steadily. There is plenty of water in every direction—say ten or twelve feet to Cairo, six feet in the Missouri, five and a half in the Illinois, four feet on the lower rapids, and a good stage in the Ohio. Arrivals numerous—over thirty since Saturday—and all with good cargoes. Receipts of produce large. The levee is very busy, much more so than is usual at this season of the MEMPHIS AND CLARKSVILLE RAILROAD .- We are glad to see from the Clarksville Chronicle that a compromise has been effected between the directors of the Memphis division and of the Clarksville division, in regard to the location of the routes through the intercession of Col. Tapp, the President of the Memphis division. The survey on the Clarksville branch is now in progress which is to tap the Memphis branch at Paris or McLemoresville.

YELLOW FEVER IN NEW YORK CITY .- The bark Mary Ann, from Trinidad, which arrived at New York on Friday, brought two passengers sick with the yellow fever, who were smuggled into New York by being concealed in the captain's cabin.

Maj. Gen. McNeir, one of the veterans who distinguished themselves in the war with Great Britain, died at Washington City on Friday morning, from effects of disease contracted at the Na al Hotel where he dined on the 8th of January

CLEVERLY DONE.—On Monday night about ten o'clock, the safe of Mr. Straus' jewelry store, at the o'clock, the safe of Mr. Straus' jewelry store, at the corner of St. Charles and Gravier streets, was robbed of thirty-two gold watches, valued at $1,600. Mr. Straus was engaged in stowing away his valuables in the safe, preparatory to closing his store for the night, when two Spaniards came in and asked to look at the stock of cames which were on the side of the store away from the safe. While showing the canes to his customers, who no doubt were a part of the depredating gang, the safe (the door of it being open) was relieved of two cases of warches, containing sixteen in each case. Mr. Straus did not discover his loss until he went to finish packing the person of the probability and the person of the rob. ing up for the night, and the perpetrators of the rob-bery are yet undiscovered.—N. that, on Wednesday last, Mr. Nathaniel Pybass, of Trenton, Tennessee, was shot and killed by Mr. E. B. Eddings, of the same place. The facts, as we learn, are that the sister of Eddings, who is a school teacher, had been brought before a justice of the peace by Pybass, and tried for chastising one of his children, who was going to school to her. Judgment was given for the defendant. Soon after this, Eddings stepped into the shop of Pybass (who is a tailor and at the time was sitting on his table pressing a coat) and saying good morning, drew a revolver and shot him through the heart. Pybass died in a few moments. Eddings is undergoing trial.

Tire Crors.—Some time ago we indulged in some speculations in regard to the tobaccor crop, which was called in question by a correspondent in Christian, whose opinions were that it must prove a very short one. From the following, in the Clarks-willer Chronicle, received last night, it will be seen that there is a fair prospect for a good crop:

Chors.—Accounts from all directions about here are very encouraging in regard to the couing crops. What is said to look unusually well in every section, and the prospect is good for an immense yield. The farmers are now reduced to 'rant' in the 'rarguments against a big crop, and will soon, no doubt, in gall their oldered forebookings, very good for a big crop. Corn, too, is said to be doing remarkably well, and with the usual rains in the next two months, will turn out an abundant yield.

EVENING BULLETIN.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, JUNE 17, 1857.

DECLINE OF DRUNKENNESS IN LONDON .- The London Economist, of the 23d ult., publishes an efficial tabular statement of the number of persons arrested for drunkenness within the jurisdiction of the Metropolitan Police from the year 1831 to 1855 inclusive, which shows that the number of drunken persons taken into custody in the first year was 31,-358, and that in the latter year was only 19,267, while the population of the city has increased about 50 per cent. within the period included in the return. The tables do not embrace the jurisdiction of the city police, under the orders of the DEATH IN PRISON .- A convict named Ward died in the Franklin county jail on Tuesday. Ward was sent to the Penitentiary from Russellville, for harboring and otherwise assisting runaway negroes, but had some time since served out his time. There was another indictment against him in Russellville, but, as his case did not come up until the fall term of the Circuit Court in that place, he preferred remaining in the jail in Frankfort until the time arrived when he was to have been tried. He had been sick some time previous to leaving the penitentiary, and died in the jail.

SALES OF BLOODED STOCK .- P. & O. W. Swigert on Monday last sold the use of two two-year old fillies until five years old, when they are to be returned, for one thousand dollars each. They are both sired by "Glencoe," and one is out of the "Envoy" mare, the other out of the "Gray Eagle" mare, both of which mares were out of "Mary Morris" by "Medoc" and dam of "Wild Irishman" and "Frankfort."

Calvin Green, Esq., of Richmond, Va., was the purchaser, for which place they have been shipped.

THE DERBY RACE IN ENGLAND .- The last English papers contain full accounts of the great Derby race at Epsom, on the 27th ult. The London correspondent of the Philadelphia American writes:

The day was exceedingly fine, and not less than one hundred thousand persons were conveyed to one hundred thousand persons were conveyed to Epsom Downs, about sixteen miles from London, by rail, and every species of vehicle that can be im-agined, from the peer's splendid four horse drag, down to an humble pony cart. The scenes along the road and upon the downs are most remarkable, and the sight immediately preceding, during, and after the race is run is not only intensely exciting, but can be imagined rather than described.

The winner of the stakes, out of a field of three year old horses and mares numbering thirty, was a mare called "Blink Bonny;" the value of the stakes exceeds $30,000; the distance run is a mile stakes exceeds $50,000; the distance run is a mile and a half, which is accomplished in a little over two minutes. Thus this great race, upon which hundreds of thousands of pounds is pending, and which a hundred thousand persons at considerable personal expense and some risk, go to visit, commences and is over, as it were, in a breath. The Houses of Parliament were closed on that day; little servettire was done or the stock expense and tle or nothing was done on the stock exchange, and, in short, all persons who had the inclination and the means put in an appearance on the downs at at some period of the day.

THE STORM AT GEORGETOWN.—The terrific storm which visited this city last Saturday morning appean to have prevailed very generally throughout are become the St. tte. The Georgetown Journal gives the following account of its vivid operations in that section:

The only effect of this storm, so far as we could learn, was visited upon our fellow-citizen Keene Richards, Es q., the lightning having struck his stable containing his Arabian stock, fortunately, however, without a oing any other injury than knocking down and sever ly stunning his hostler and one of ever, without a oing any other injury than knocking down and severe ly stunning his hostler and one of his horses and de molishing one of the large water tanks connected w. ith the stable. It is thought that two successive strokes were visited upon the stable; one having struck the end of the stable, passed along the water-troug, hand expended its force upon a locust tree beyond, completely shattering it. The other struck the stable, and, passing into the reservoir, came in contact with the water, exploded, and shattered the tank. Mr. hichards's servant man is still suffering from the shock which he received, but is now able to get about. is now able to get about.

F. H. Abbott, Esq., lost at least $2,500 by the storm on Saturday. Some thin k it will exceed this amount. Prof. Thomas's loss w. 'll be about $1,200. GREAT STORM IN ILLINOIS .- A severe hail storm occurred in Illinois on Saturday:

TERRE HAD TE, June 14. On yesterday about 3 o'clock P. M., & heavy hail storm and wind passed over Pans, tearly han bouses, and throwing cars off the track. The freight depot of the Illinois Central Railroad and a great many houses were blown down, and some five or six perseas killed. [From the St. Louis Republican.] ndian Hostilities on the Plains — An Emigrant Tran Attacked and Destroyed — Four Men Killed, two Men and one Woman Wounded — The Indians in the rear of Col. Sumner's Command.

We have just received a letter from Fort Riley, which we publish below, informing us that an emmigrant train has been attacked and destroyed by the Cheyenne Indians, about eighty miles west of

It may be recollected that Col. Sumner left Fort Leavenworth some three or four weeks ago, with six companies of infantry, for the purpose of making war upon the Cheyennes. He divided his force, sending one portion up the Arkansas, under command of Major Sedgwick, and leading the other himself up the Platte. It would appear that the Indians have slipped down between the two columns and companies of mardering and robbing in their and commenced murdering and robbing in their

The Cheyennes are amongst the boldest and most The Cheyennes are amongst the boldest and most warlike Indians on our Western prairies, and, if once fairly aroused, will be difficult to subdue. They number about one thousand warriors, and will doubtlessly be joined by many young Sioux braves, with whom they are closely connected.

As there are great many emigrants crossing the plains this season, it is very much to be feared that we shall soon hear of other catastrophes similar to that described below:

NEAR FORT RILEY, June 9, 1857.

Mr. EDITOR: Our quiet community has just been thrown into considerable excitement by the news that the Indians, supposed to be the Cheyennes, have attacked a small party of emigrants about eighty miles west of Fort Riley, and killed four men eighty miles west of Fort Riley, and killed four men and two men wounded and one woman. One of the survivors, Mr. A. P. Weaver, has reached this place and makes the following statement:

About eighty miles from the post on the Republican fork of Kansas river, my party had just left camp on the morning of Saturday, the 6th of June, 1857, about 9 o'clock, A. M. About 150 Indians, mounted, charged on our train and surrounded it; they commenced firing on our men; they killed four men of our party. After their guns were discharged, the Indians retired to a creek close by and continued their fire until we left the wagons. Before we had got out of sight they had emptied the wagons; a part of them pursued us. Our party consisted of ten men, eight women, and ten children. I left the party coming down in this direction with two men and one woman wounded, all on tion with two men and one woman wounded, all on foot and out of provisions. One of the four men killed was endeavoring to escape but was overta-ken, and the last that was seen of him the Indians were dragging him by a larriat.

The names of three of the men killed are S. D.

Weaver, M. Lewis, and Sam. Smith. The wounded weaver, M. Lewis, and Sain. Sinth. The wounded are J. Houston, J. Smith, and a woman, name un-known. Capt. Hendrickson, with two companies of Fort Leavenworth, has gone out to bring in the survivors. As his command is on foot, it will be imssible for him to pursue the Indians, who are all well mounted.

This may be looked upon as the commencement of the Cheyenne war. Col. Summer has gone out after this tribe, but one portion of his command is on the Arkansas and the other on the Platte, two hundred Arkansas and the other on the Flatte, two hundred miles apart, so that the Indians have a fine chance of slipping in between and getting in his rear, which, it appears, they have done. As the emigration crossing the plains this year is very large, there will be a great loss of life and property unless the Government promptly sends an additional mounted force in that direction. Instead of sending such an unnecessarily large number of troops to Utah, a por-tion should be sent to chastise the Indians who are murdering and robbing our citizens at our very doors. Yours, &c., A. B.

[Paris (May 29) Correspondence of the London Times.] NEW COMPLICATIONS IN THE SPANISH-MEXICAN DISPUTE.—A telegraphic despatch from Madrid announced yesterday that new difficulties had arisen in the negotiations on the Mexican question, and private letters from that city of the 25th confirm the fact. The "Mexican question" comprises the claims of certain bondholders in the republic, which are of old standing, and satisfaction demanded by Spain for the outrages and murders perpetrated on Spanish subjects resident in the Mexican territory. Though some days ago a satisfactory settlement appeared extremely probable, yet there is reason to fear that, in spite of the united efforts of Lord Howden and the Marquis de Turgot, the question does not pre-sent at this moment a very favorable appearance. The President of the Council and the Minister for Foreign Affairs, Marshal Narvaez and M. Pidal are both moderate in their views and pacific in thei intentions, but there is a violent and uncompromis intentions, but there is a violent and uncompromising feeling of hostility against Mexico among the public, in the press, and in the Congress.

In the Congress the paragraph in the answer to the speech from the Throne was drawn up by M. Gonzales Bravo, the Spanish Minister in England, in a much stronger tone than the corresponding passages in the speech; but it would appear that even this does not satisfy the Deputies, and an amendment will probably be moved to make the paragraph more bitter still. It is certain that the Government is just now exceedingly weak from the many fracmore bitter still. It is certain that the Government is just now exceedingly weak, from the many fractions into which the majority is split, and, as the Mexican question is the readiest and easiest of all means of opposition, Marshal Narvaez and M. Pidal are becoming every day less free agents in the matter. Besides the natural feeling in the public to triumph over the insolence of the old colony, an artificial irritation has been excited by persevering efforts and a layish expenditure of money on the part forts and a lavish expenditure of money on the part of persons holding Mexican bonds to a large amount, and who think that nothing short of hostilities will obtain for them the payment of their more than doubtful claims

It is to be regretted that M. Lafrauga did not arrive in Madrid some time before the meeting of the Cortes. The Government feels that the deputies, although for the most part its own nominees, are growing un manageable now that they are elected, and with un manageable now that they are elected, and with ungrateful hardihood presume to make a show of independence. There is now an outcry against Mexico, which people persuade themselves and others, is patriotic—that unhappy adjective which is so dreadfully prostituted in Spain. On the whole, I fear that Lord Howden and M. De Turgot may be working, not for Queen Isabella. but, as they say in ing, not for Queen Isabella,, but, as they say in France, "ponr le Roi le Prusse"—that is for nothing

THE MT. VERNON ESTATE.—The ladies of the South have entered heartily into the work of raising a sum to purchase the Mt. Vernon estate, so as to secure the home and grave of Washington from desecration. They have just issued an appeal to the mayors of cities and towns, and editors of newspapers throughout the Union, proposing that the coming Fourth of July may be "dedicated, consecrated, and made memorable forever" by taking up Mount Vernon subscriptions in every portion of the Mount Vernon subscriptions in every portion of the Republic. They say that more than one-eighth of Republic. They say that more than one-eighth of the required sum has been raised. The present proprietor of Mount Vernon has offered to sell 200 acres of the estate, including the mansion house, to the State of Virginia; and as large sums have been raised all over the Union, to complete this purchase, it is only necessary to pay them over to the treasury of the "Old Dominion," and for that State to accept the office of trustee. There can be no doubt, we think, that the entire sum asked for the property—$200,000—can readily be raised. It is true that the price is enormous, but the price must be paid, or the estate lost. It would be eminently disgraceful if the 30,000,000 of inhabitants in the United States should allow Mount Vernon to be "cut up into lots" for speculators, on the pretext that its proprietor asked too much for it. The State of Virginia will run no risk in assuming the purchase, for the people will soon find the means and it is better for Virginis to hold the property as virtual trustee for the whole nation, than to buy with her own funds.

Dangerous Advice.—The Philadelphia Ladger lately stated that housekeepers should know that the acid in rhubarb, gooseberries, and currants may be neutralized by putting a third of a teaspoonful of soda in the fruit without affecting the flavor. All experience shows this information to be werse than useless, for, as the Pittsburg Post says, fruit prepared in this way should be very carefully thrown out of the window. It is not fit for the table. The immense quantities of soda already used in the culinary department of our households is a serious detriment to the health, and we are sorry that any new use of this already too popular alkali should have been suggested.

A Defaulting Treasurer's Account of Himself.—The trial of Wm. A. Buster, the defaulting treasurer of Sonoma county, Cal., was concluded a few days ago. There were four indictments against him—the first for permitting gaming, upon which he pleaded guilty and was fined $300. The second, for using and loaning State moneys, which came to his hands as treasurer of Sonoma county; on a plea of not guilty and a verdict of guilty, he was sentenced to two and a half years' imprisonment. On the third, for using the moneys belonging to the county, he was found guilty and sentenced to two and a half years' imprisonment. On the fourth, for embezzlement of school moneys belonging to the county of Sonoma, he pleaded guilty and was sentenced to three years' imprisonment. On being asked if he had anything to say why judgment should not be pronounced against him, he delivered a speech, from which we extract the following rich account of the causes which produced his downfall. We quote from the Journal:

I was at the saloon on the evening of the 17th (Saturday), at 10 or 11 o'clock, playing cards for

We quote from the Journal:

I was at the saloon on the evening of the 17th (Saturday), at 10 or 11 o'clock, playing cards for one thing or another. Treadwell (Jo.) and Russell went home with me to go to bed; they found the front door partly open and the safe partly open. I had gone round to the back of the house, and they called to me. I went round and all the money was taken out of the safe, God knows by whom, but I don't. That is the only thing for which I can make no showing, excepting my acts. If I had been disposed to rob myself I might have taken much more, and you all know I am in the habit of doing things by the wholesale. From the time I should have started to Sacramento up to the time the safe was robbed, I paid two thousand and eighty-eight do'clars, and offered to pay more. Now, you will agree lars, and offered to pay more. Now, you will agree with me that any man who would have done this (if he intended to steal) would have been a fool; but I could only deny the charge and give the above reason; and my best friends passed me by without speaking, and thought me guilty, and I was almo t driven to despair; cometimes I thought I would not driven to despair; sometimes I thought I would not go to Sacramento; Dr. Williams told me he heard I was afraid to go; I told him that I had rather die than be thought afraid to go; I don't know what

I went to Sacramento and fell in with Josome of you know who he is; and now I will relate the only thing I regret in this whole matter. I told Nevill what I wanted to get (a relief bill passed);

Nevill what I wanted to get (a relief bill passed); he went with me and seemed to know most all the members. Nevill seemed to be very kind, and did all he could for me, and we drank considerable with members of the Legislature.

Next morning I went to draw the school money, and he helped me pack it up; and after I had deposited it, he said he was out of money and so was I, and if we would take some of the money and go to a faro bank we could win expenses.

a faro bank we could win expenses.

I took out one hundred dollars—it was lost; we drank some brandy—it was good brandy; he insisted the stake was so small he could do nothing, and wanted me to increase it and he would certainly win. I did so until we had lost a thousand dollars. He swore by his right arm and the blood of his heart, that if he lost he knew where he could get heart, that if he lost he knew where he could get the money and would pay me back, We got aboard a boat and started for San Francisco. I felt so bad I could not sleep; he said he could not, and would get up a game of poker and make a sure thing for me to win. I gave him and make a sure thing for me to win. I gave him a twenty, he was to put up the cards so as to deal me a full — I suppose you all know what a full is. I watched him deal; he took my cards from the bottom and the other man's from the top. The other man bet along moderately for some time and then raised to four hundred and fifty dollars. I supposed he meant to bluff me, and proposed to let Jo. hold my hand until I went for the money, but he would not consent. I then sent Jo. for the money. When the money was up, I said I had three fives and two sixes — I will always recollect the hand. He showed four kings, and he took the money; and then I found that Jo. was not acting fair with me; and I was then all out except what I had in my pocket, one hundred and forty dollars and a bit.

I talked with him, told him I was broke and ruined; he said he would make it all right in the morning; I felt as though I was gone in, and the next morning I went down on the wharf and had a great mind to throw the one hundred and forty dollars in mind to throw the one hundred and forty dollars in the bay, for I knew that amount was no use to me; I went and bucked off the one hundred and forty dollars and kept the bit.

I had lost all confidence in Jo., and told him b had ruined me; he told me not to go home; I told him by the Gods I would, and let the people all know what I had done; he said he could not find the man he was to get the money from, but would get me the money and bring it up; I came home and was loth to tell it; Dr. Williams asked me if I had brought the school money, and I said "yes."

Ogan wanted me to pay a school warrant, and told him just how it was; and I was then charge told him just how it was; and I was then charged all over town with stealing the school money, and I suppose it was no better. I was then delivered over by my securities to the sheriff, and had to go to jail, where I have been ever since. Many reports were circulated against me, and I understood they threatened to take me out of jail and hang me; all I could hear was through my family; no man could come; he was denied admission either by the sheriff or jailor, I don't know which, nor do I care. I was told I would be punished to the extent of the law, and I don't believe there could have been a jury in the country but what would commit me.

I was without money and without counsel; I told C. P. Wilkins my situation, and he offered to do all he could for me; he was in bad health, and I asked Temple to assist; he said he could do me no good before this community, but he would assist all he before this community, but he would assist air he could; I made an application for a change of venue, but was denied, and was advised to run away; I could have done so, and been gone long ago, but I would rather hang than to acknowledge the crime by running away, and thereby saddle it on my family.

I expect, if I live, to serve out my time and come back here, for if I cannot live here I cannot any-where. I don't make these remarks with the hope where. I don't make these remarks with the hope of influencing the court. I want them to do their duty—appoint the time which they see cause to allot me, and I will go and try it. I have nothing more to say.

THE NEW SUGAR-CANE .- Mr. Leonard Wray, of London, the introducer into France and other countries of Imphee, or Chinese sugar-cane (which, however, he obtained in Africa), and the discoverer however, he obtained in Africa), and the discoverer of a process of crystalizing sugar from its juice, has just returned to this city from a visit to the Southern and Western States. We learn that he has planted upon the estate of Ex-Governor Hammond, of South Carolina, 110 acres; upon that of Mr. Peters, near Atlanta, Georgia, 30 acres; and upon that of Cassius M. Ciay, near Lexington, Kentucky, 7 acres. Mr. D. J. Browne, of the United States Patent Office, who introduced the Chinese sugarcane into this country, and demonstrated to the public its great value, is understood, in common with Ex-Governor Hammond, and other gentlemen.

public its great value, is understood, in common with Ex-Governor Hammond, and other gentlemen, to have urged Mr. Wray to visit the United States for the purpose herein named; and he is also aiding, by all means in his power, to induce the prompt and general attention of agriculturists to the adoption of these varieties of a novel plant.

This cane is profitable for many purposes besides the manufacture of sugar, such as the production of alcohol, of wine, of fodder, of a red dye for silks, &c. It will grow and prosper wherever Indian or broom corn may be cultivated to advantage; but its most abundant yield of sugar and most profitable culture will prove to be in the regions best adapted to the tropical sugar-cane now in general cultivation. to the tropical sugar-cane now in general cultivation. Whether it will supersede the plant now prevalent there or not is a problem to be solved by experiment alone. We are assured that, from the ripeued seeds of the crops now planted in South Carolina, Georgia, and Kentucky, a second crop may be produced this summer in the South.—Washington "States."

The last we hear of Miss Coutts is the following from the English Court Journal: "The eccentric English lady who has followed Mario about the world was dressing for his benefit, recently, in her apartment at the Hotel du Rhine, when her dress caught fire, and she was so severely burned that serious apprehensions are entertained of her recovery." The "apprehensions of her recovery" (shough the Court Journal does not say so) are probably "entertained" by Grisi, his wife.

An old friend says: "For ten years I have bought my stationery, and school books, such as First, Second, Third, and Fourth Readers, grammars and dictionaries, primers and spellers, arithmetics and histories, my blank memorandum and pass books, copy and ciphering books, letter, cap, and note paper, business and note envelops, slates and slate pencils, playing cards and bonnet boards, ink and inkstands, steel pens and pen-holders of Hagan & Co., 507 Main street, between Third a Fourth." It's the place to get your money back. Uniform low prices, excelled by no other house. Quantities sold to suit purchasers and every satisfaction guarantied and rendered to customers. Grocery, confectionery, and drug houses, who buy to sell again, will consult their own interest by giving Hagan & Co. a call.

F. Yeiser & Co., Fourth street, under the National Hotel, are now selling their rich and fashionable jewelry, fine watches, and diamonds at cost and 10 per cent. It is conceded by all that there has never been in the city a richer and more fashionable stock of jewelry than theirs; therefore purchasers will do well to examine their stock before m22 btf buying elsewhere.

"REDUCED BY DYSPEFSIA TO A MERE SKELE-TON"—Cured by "Barhave's Holland Bitters."—Mr. A. Matchett, a trader probably as well known as any man in Western Pennsylvania, states as follows: "I man in Western Pennsylvania, states as follows: "I met with a farmer in Armstrong county who was reduced by Dyspepsia to a mere skeleton; I persuaded him to buy a bottle of Bærhave's Holland Bitters, believing it would cure him. Meeting him some months after, what was my astonishment at finding him a hale, hearty man; he told me he now weighed 200 pounds, and that this wonderful change had been produced by Bærhave's Holland Bitters, to which he attributed solely his restoration." j&bdeod3&wjl

TRY IT AND SEE .- If there is any person in the whole range of our paper who has never had occasion to test the virtue of Porter's Oriental Life Liniment, he should immediately purchase a twentyfive cent bottle and be convinced of its utility. For the cure of Burns, Bruises, Cuts, Sprains, Old Sores, Tetter, Rheumatism, &c., it is the most popular remedy now in use, and is equally popular in diseases of horses. For the cure of Sweeny, Scratches, Stiff Joints, Cuts, Mogs, Swellings, &c., it is unrivaled.

The Oriental Life Liniment is put up in three different sized bottles and sold at twenty-five, fifty cents, and one dollar per bottle. Principal depot, 96 Third street, Louisville, Ky., and sold by dealers everywhere. m28 j&bd&w RIOTOUS CONDUCT IN NEW YORK .- On Saturday night a riot took place in the Eleventh Ward, in consequence of a collision between the Metropolitan and Municipal police. The Municipal men had two of their number arrested for interference in an altercation between certain "Metropolitans" and a prisoner who refused to recognize them. The Municipal men were led off by a squad of twenty from the new station, the prisoner being left to escape. A great crowd gathered around the Metropolitan station and for a time threatened its destruction, which would have been accomplished had it not been protected by the Municipal men. After the two policemen were bailed out ($300 each) quite a demonstration took place. Great excitement prevailed through the night, and when two of the Metropolitan police finally went forth to patrol, one was stabbed and both so badly beaten that no others ventured out afterwards.

It will be seen from our dispatches that the military had to be called out, and that Mayor Wood and two others were arrested and held to bail in $5,000 each to answer.

The following are dispatches from Washington to the New York papers:

Gen. Walker had an interview with the President last evening. He announced himself a citizen of Nicaragua, and complained of the illegal and hostile interference of Capt. Davis against him. An investigation into the facts will be ordered. The conversation was general and informal. Gen. NEW YORK, June 16. Mayor Wood surrendered himself up to the Coroner. The National Guards who were under arms and about starting to Boston to participate in the Bunker Hill celebration there, left for that city. The twelfth regiment of State troops are now under arms. Several metropolitan policemen were badly injured in an affray to-day, and their recovery is considered doubtful.

NEW YORK, June 17. Mayor Wood succumbed to the law this morning and submitted to arrest on the second warrant without resistance. Mr. Turner, deputy Street Commissioners and Capt. Bennett, of the Mayor's Police, who were concerned in the outrages committed on Saturday at the City Hall, were arrested at the same time. All three were held to bail in the sum of 5,000 each. The City Hall is guarded on all sides by the Mayor's Police, the crowd being excluded except those having business. No further outrages are apprehended but troops are in readiness at their armories and prepared to meet any emergency that may arise.

PHILADELPHIA, June 17, M. Before the supreme court, now in session in this city, the application for an injunction against the sale of the Main Line is being argued. Yesterday a letter was read from Gov. Pollock, who protested against the right of the supreme court in the premises and the right of the defendants to be heard. This morning a pretest was read from the commis-sioners of Allegheny county against the sale of the Main Line to the Pennsylvania Railtoad on the ground that they were interested in twenty thousand shares of the stock. Affidavits were read in answer from Charles Henry Fisher and J. Edgar Snowden, to the effect that the said stock was pledged to bond belder.

Boston, June 17. The weather has been cloudy, but up to this time no rain has fallen, and nothing has occurred to mar the ceremonies in honor of the anniversary of the battle of Bunker Hill. The procession started at noon making a superb show, and the streets along moon making a superb show, and the streets along which it passes are thronged with spectators. Among the notables present are the Governors of New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Rhode Island, and Vermont, and the Mayors of the cities of Baltimore and Montreal. Senator Mason, of Va., Judge Breese, of Illinois, George Peabody, Caleb Cushing, and numbers of other distinguished men are among the guests.

WASHINGTON, June 17. The official documents show that no instruction were given by Secretary Dobbin either to Commo-lore Mervine or Capt. Davis relative to General Walker and his men. Great Popular Excitement in Brussels.—
Brussels was on the afternoon of Wednesday the scene of a popular turmoil, which at one time assumed the features of a serious political demonstration. The incident arose from the warmth of political feeling excited by the debates in the Chamber of Representatives on "charitable institutions," and particularly by the attitude of the Opposition in the sitting of Wednesday. M. Frere, a member of the latter, laid the foundation of the subsequent disorder by characterizing the guarantee offered by Government for the production of the accounts of monastic institutions as an insulting farce. Loud cries from the Right of "We know nothing of the kind" interrupted the speaker, who was requested by the President to retract his words. M. Frere replied, in a stentorian voice: "When, some days ago, I denounced the conduct observed towards some young girls, lace workers in a religious institution, a voice in this chamber taunted me as an infame." This sentence was received with applause by the strangers in the gallery, who commenced yelling and stamping. The President gave orders to the Huissiers to clear the gallery, and the public slowly withdrew. The allusion of M. Frere to the lace manufacturers is explained in the following article in the Precurseur of Antwerp:

"The Observateur published in one of its late numbers a fact so incredible that in the expecation of an official contradiction we have until now hesitated to lay it before our readers. In consequence of the silence of the clerical journals and of the persons interested, we can no longer doubt the correctness of the account given by that journal. It is, therefore, now certain that the religances of the lace school of Liederkerke caused the hair of the heads of ten young girls who worked in their manufactory to be cut off, because, on the Sunday of Lakermesse, these poor girls had taken part in a dance."

After a few minutes had elapsed, and before the excitement created GREAT POPULAR EXCITEMENT IN BRUSSELS. -

After a few minutes had elapsed, and before the excitement created among the members of the Chamber by this incident had subsided, a great number of men with their hats on forced their way into the galleries, and it was necessary to have recourse to the troops on guard to clear the Chamber, and orders were given to strengthen the military posts outside. Half an hour after this second disturbance the President resumed his seat, and the discussion recommenced. Meanwhile the public, after having been expelled from the House, assembled in noisy and agitated groups in the space which separates the Park from the Chamber.

Above a thousand persons, belonging to respecta-

Above a thousand persons, belonging to respecta-ble classes of society, congregated round the steps of the Chamber, and awaited the close of the sitof the Chamber, and awaited the close of the sit-ting. No sooner had the proceedings terminated and some members of the Right departed, than a storm of hisses and yells arose from the crowd. The Apostolic Nuncio, Monsignor Gonella, who was leaving at the same time, misconstrued the attitude of the crowd into a personal attack upon himself, and withdrew into the Chamber. But the Minister of Foreign Affairs and M. Demoor, a Liberal mem-ber, hastened to acquaint him with his error, and, offering him their arms, they left the Chamber, and accompanied the Prelate to his carriage. The groups onering him their arms, they left the Chamber, and accompanied the Prelate to his carriage. The groups made way with respect for the Nuncio, and many persons took off their hats to the representative of the Church. It appears that the crowd had in the first instance mistaken the latter for the "Chamoine de Haener," a most unpopular person, a fact which explained the hostile manifestation. The members of the Laft were received by the second with of the Left were received by the crowd with enthu-

M. Rogier, on appearing on the steps, was the object of a particular ovation, but he ratreated before the welcome which awaited him, and left the chamber by a private gate. The crowd, after waiting in vain for M. Frere, proceeded to his residence, where it sang the "Brabanconne" under his windows, and indulged in innumerable "vivats." The crowd next proceeded to the residence of M. Verhaegen, and favored him with a similar manifestation; it then dispersed in the utmost order. During the above scenes the troops were ordered to remain in barracks, ready to act should circumstances unfortunately demand their interference. At the commencement of Thursday's sitting of the Chamber Vicomte Vilsin XIV., Minister of Foreign Affairs, rose, and thus alluded to the events of the preceding day:

"Gentlemen: A circumstance to be regretted occurred vestered."

"Gentlemen: A circumstance to be regretted oc-curred yesterday. The Apostolic Nuncio to the Court of Brussels was seriously insulted. This in-cident took place yesterday at 5 o'clock, and at 5½ o'clock the Minister of Foreign Affairs, in uniform, proceeded to the residence of his Excellency and offered excuses to him in the name of his Go ment, which the Nuncio would have been justified in ment, which the Nuncio would have been justified in demanding, had he had time to draw up his representations. From the residence of the Nuncio I proceeded to the Chateau de Laecken, where I rendered an account of my conduct to the King. The King approved it, and has charged the Grand Marshel to express this morning to the Papal Nuncio the regrets of his Majesty. I consider the incident is terminated."

minated."

This brief speech was received by the Chamber with general approbation. After the sitting, the Cabinet Ministers proceeded to Laecken, where a council, presided over by the King, took place. The Ministers remained to a grand dinner given at the chateau, where the royal family, the dignitaries of the court, and several strangers of distinction were present.

(From the Times of June 3.1 We have received the Belgian papers of Monday. Tranquillity appears to be restored, but a portion of the Civic Guard is still under arms at Brussels, and troops are ready for any emergency. Some 70 individuals had been arrested, but the greater part of them have been set at liberty.

At Liege, where the windows of the Bishop's palace were smashed by a volley of stones, the excitement is also subsiding. The reports from Mons, Ghent, Antwerp, and other towns in the provinces are also of a tranquillizing nature.

[From the li nes, June 3.] Admiralty instructions were yesterday issued by Captain Noddall, in command of her Majesty's Captain Noddall, in command of her Majesty's screw steamship Agamemnon, cancelling her recent order to proceed to Birkenhead, and directing that the former order to ship the Transatlantic cable from East Greenwich shall hold good. The United States ship Niagara, having been inspected by Mr. Dallas, the American Minister, it was decided that the necessary arrangements should be entered into by the shipwright department of the dock-yard, so as to adapt that vessel for the reception and transport of her intended portion of the electric cable from Liverpool.

Accident.—We learn that a serious accident oc-curred to our townsman Sol. Smith, Esq., on Friday evening last. He had stopped with his carriage in front of Wood's theatre, and immediately after alighting his horse took fright and was about to run away, when Mr. Smith seized the reins and was thrown down and under the wheels of the vehicle and received a fracture of the collar bone and some severe bruises.—St. Louis News, June 16.

PRIZE ESSAY ON HEN HOUSES AND THE MANAGE MENT OF FOWLS—For the Premium offered by the Union So. of Va. and N. Carolina—By Mrs. Catherine Green, of Dimordale.—In view of successful fowl raising, first—due regard should be observed as to the hen house, roosts, nests, and hovels. My hen house is 10 by 12 feet, built of pine poles; my roosts are supported by four forks, driven in the ground, and pine poles extended from one to the other. My boxes or nests are made of plank, 12 inches wide, with partitions 12 inches apart, giving each nest one foot each way. They are also supported by forks, say about three feet long, driven into the ground, taking particular care that neither roosts nor nest should have any connection with the house. This prevents the lice, should there be any, from sheltering in the logs or roof, the house answering only for protection to the fowls. In the spring, the house, roosts, and nests should receive a coat of white-wash, and at intervals, say about once a month, the roosts PRIZE ESSAY ON HEN HOUSES AND THE MANAGE protection to the fowls. In the spring, the house, roosts, and nests should receive a coat of white-wash, and at intervals, say about once a month, the roosts and nests should be taken out and scalded, new nests made, and, thus cleansed, returned to their places. The floor should be kept well supplied with fresh carth to receive the droppings, and once in 15 or 20 days removed to the compost pile, and a fresh supply of earth put in. my hovels for spring use cover a space of about 3 feet square, those for summer use about 5 feet. For summer the ends are left a little open to admit arr. They are also whitewashed on the inside, and moved about every 15 or 20 days. In spring for early use the hens are set as they take their nests, and carry what chickens they hatch; later in the season I never put the eggs under less than two hens at a time, and frequently from four to six. These hatch out at the same time, and I make a selection of the hens, and give a hen from 50 to 75 chickens, and put her under one of the largest hovels. The remainder of the setting hens are stopped up for a few days to wean them from their nests, and again turned out for laying. In this way I keep the largest portion of the hens for laying and setting. We feed the chickens three times a day with corn-meal dough, with a good pertion of bran added. They are never turned out early in the morning, nor allowed water except in long spells of dry hot weather. My average this season has been about 25 chickens to the hen. I have tried most of the different kinds of chickens, and greatly prefer the Domaneca ero-sed on the Shanghai. First, they are very thrifty, of quick have tried most of the different kinds of chickens, and greatly prefer the Domaneca ero-sed on the Shanghai. First, they are very thrifty, of quick and large growth, soon attaining the size to fry—their flesh or skin is of a rich yellow, which adds very much to their appearance when brought to the table. A sample of these is on exhibition, to which the attention of the committee is respectfully invited.—Amer. Farmer.

MANURING FRUIT TREES .- The Dutch, who are admirable gardeners, had in the great exhibition an instrument called an "earth borer," for manuring fruit trees without digging the ground. A circle of holes is bored around the tree at two feet distance from the tree, and a foot from each other. Taking the tree at a foot in diameter at the surface of the soil, the circle will be five feet in diameter, and fifteen the circle will be five feet in diameter and fifteen feet in circumference; and if the holes are three inches in diameter and a foot apart—fifteen inches—there will be about twelve holes; more or less, according to the transfer of the tra there will be about twelve holes; more or less, according to the diameter of the tree.

They are eighteen inches deep (where there is enough depth of soil), and slauting towards the center; are filled with liquid manure, diluted more or less in dry weather and stronger as the weather is wetter. For the time of application, Dr. Lindley tells us, in the Gardener's Chronicle, Feb. 21, 1852, "For fruit, the proper time for using liquid manure, is when the fruit is beginning to swell, and has acquired by means of its own surface a power of suction capable of opposing that of the leaves.

At that time liquid manure may be applied freely and continued from time to time as long as the fruit is growing. But at the first sign of ripening, or even earlier, it should be wholly withheld. If liquid manure is applied to a plant when the flowers are growing, the vigor which it communicates to them must also be communicated to the leaves, but when leaves are growing unusually fast there is when leaves are growing unusually fast there is sometimes a danger that they may rob the branches of the sap required for the nutrition of the fruit; and, if that happens, the latter falls off. And we all knew that, when ripening has begun, even water spoils the quality of fruit, although it augments the size, as is sufficiently shown by the strawberries size, as is sufficiently shown by the strawberries prepared for the London market by irrigation; great addition al size is obtained, but it is at the expense of flavor, and any injury which mere water may produce will certainly not be diminished by water holding ammoniacal and saline substances in solu-tion." I am not aware that this information has made its way into our orchards, finding no allusion to it in any of our books on orchard management. nor at our agricultural meetings. The time is just coming for putting it to the test, and it remains with the fruit growers to see what profit they can make of it. They need, in these times, all they can get, and this method has the recommendation of requiring little outlay, if any.

Mark Lane (London) Express.

THE STRIPED BUG .- We bave several plans, recommended by correspondents as the best means of checking the depredations of this insect. Some of these we have before given. Sowing plaster, when the dew is on the plants, is good, but needs repeat-ing every day. An entirely new plan to us, is to insert strips of white paper into split sticks. These insert strips of white paper into split sticks. These sticks are then put around the hills like miniature flags and flag poles. A correspondent avers that these will frighten the bugs away. A pumpkin seed or two drooped in the hill will furnish food for the bugs, and they will sometimes overlook the melons or encumbers. The best plan of all, is to place a box over the hills, and if a light of glass is placed over it, all the better. It will not only keep the bugs away, but will advance the plants two or three weeks, giving you ripe melons a long time before you could get them by the ordinary practice. Sprinkling the plants with black pepper one of our readers finds a sovereign remedy. Another finds readers finds a sovereign remedy. Another finds that placing a handful of slaked lime around each plant, on the surface of the ground, will keep these little pests away. Among such a multitude of remedies that are reported as sure, there would seem to be but little to fearfrom striped bugs.
